Atlanta Chef, Jay Swift

brings his passion and creative interpretation of seasonal comfort food to 4th & Swift. Occupying the space that formerly served as the engine room to Southern Dairies, the restaurant retains many of the building's original elements. Exposed brick, concrete and beams are updated with contemporary accents such as warm woods, rich fabrics and brushed white metals.

The award-winning design team of ai3 created the sophisticated tavern, kitchen and dining spaces where guests enjoy 4th & Swift's modern comfort food and drink, lively conversation and southern hospitality.

Chef Jay Swift and his kitchen offer simply and honestly prepared food from meticulously sourced products, including those from sustainable, local farmers. The offerings from the kitchen change daily, weekly and seasonally based on the quality and availability of ingredients and showcase his personal interpretation of modern comfort food.

In addition to the innovative menu, 4th & Swift offers diners an expansive wine and cocktail menu under the expertise and care of General Manager Seth Roskind and Bar Manager James Ives while Pastry Chef Chrysta Umberger introduces guests to inventive and savory desserts.
